ST. DOROTHY'S CONSTRUCTION TO START

His Excellency, the Most Reverend Richard J. Cushing, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Boston, announced Monday evening, in Villanova Hall, that ground breaking, for the new St. Dorothy's Church, at Silver Lake, will take place next Spring.

Capable of seating 700 people, and to cost several hundred thousand dollars, the new edifice of worship is expected to be completed in time for the Christmas services, next year.

St. Dorothy's parish was established on June 7, 1954, and named in honor of St. Dorothy, Virgin and Martyr of the early church.

The 13 acre tract of land on which the church will be built was purchased by Monsignor Albert J. Shea, former pastor of the mother parish of St. Thomas of Villanova.

Father Joseph W. Leahy, the parish priest, took up residence in the new parish house on Hamden Street on March 17, 1955. In February 1957 the Rev David C. Tyrell, a newly ordained priest came to St. Dorothy's as assistant.

The priests have been serving Mass in St. Mary's Hall, in South Tewksbury, for the parishioners of St. Dorothy's, and in St. Dorothy's hall, on the church grounds.

People of the parish have been engaged in a gigantic fund raising drive for the past three years.

SELECTMEN GRANT AVCO LICENSE

Without discussion, Monday evening, the Board of Selectmen voted to grant AVCO a license for the storage of hydrogen and oxygen, in trailers, requested several weeks ago.

In a meeting conducted by Charles Black because of the absence of the chairman, there was little discussion by the Selectmen of the business of the evening.

An application for the re-opening of Mercute's gravel pit was tabled, pending a report from the Town Engineer (who has been sick for the past week).

Black commented on the surfacing of Middlesex Avenue, in front of the Mytron plant, in No. Wilmington, saying that he didn't think a very good job had been done. He also commented on the condition of Salem Street, now heavily traveled by gravel trucks, saying that he felt the present surface would be destroyed in a few more weeks.

Black asked TM Calabrese why the Eames St work was unfinished. He was told that the heavy rains stopped the work, which should have been completed Monday.

He told the TM that he had had calls about loam and other items left on Jones Avenue - people thought the town should take the stuff away after finishing a job. The TM said the loam had been left there because the residents requested it. 'That's what the people wanted'

Don Kidder commented on three or four large boulders on Wing Road - 'wonderful job - but why did they leave the boulders there'

Fire Station

TM Calabrese reported that he had run into a 'bottleneck' on Fire Station repairs - no one seemed to know just what was supposed to be done. He had letters from the Fire Chief and the Police Chief on the subject.

Calabrese was told to find out from Garnet Mills.

Lowell Street

Commenting on the new surfacing of Lowell Street, the Selectmen told the TM that he should try to have the State paint stripes, for the traffic lanes, and in some way further delineate the 'deceleration' lane, in front of the AVCO plant.

Later in the evening Calabrese read a letter from the State Department of Public Works, stating that the state did not see any reason for making Lowell Street a State Highway. No part of Route 129 was a State Highway, the letter said, and a traffic count indicated that there was no reason to make this part a part of the State Highway. It could, however, become a part of the Chapter 90 system of

NEW ENGLAND CHAMPIONSHIPS HERE

NEW ENGLAND CHAMPIONSHIPS TO BE HELD IN WILMINGTON

Long due recognition of the Wilmington Skating club has been made, in the announcement by the Northeastern Skating Association that the annual New England Outdoor Speed Skating Championship races will be henceforth held in the Town of Wilmington.

The announcement, made Sunday by the Wilmington Skating Club in behalf of the Association, means that Wilmington will be host to one of the half dozen match meets annually sponsored by the Northeastern Association - parent organization of all the Skating Clubs in New England.

The dates of January 17 and 18 have been set for the Wilmington races, which will bring to Wilmington not only the members of the New England clubs, but many of the stars of clubs in New York and other eastern states.

Leo P. O'Connell, President of the Wilmington Skating Club has extended invitations to the other clubs for the event, invitations which have now been accepted.

The meet will include all distances in Speed Skating, by the fastest skaters in the Eastern United States, as well as a number of National and North American champions.

While President O'Connell has accepted, in the name of the Wilmington club, the Championship Matches, no definite location has yet been named in Wilmington for the event.

It may be held on Silver Lake and it may be held on the Rotary Rink - the Wilmington club is not yet certain.

The Wilmington Skating Club probably holds more North American and National Championships than any club in the United States.

Leading the list of Wilmington Skaters at the present moment is Jeanne Ashworth, of Church Street, the fastest woman on skates in North America. Miss Ashworth holds records in the Indoor and Outdoor classes

WILDCATS TRIUMPH

Top North Reading, 8-0
Playing their most consistent game of the year, a determined Wilmington High School football team parlayed defensive excellence and a perfectly executed 58-yard pass play into victory over North Reading on Saturday afternoon. The one play which prevented a second consecutive scoreless tie for the home forces started with Quarterback George Munroe taking the ball on his hip and rolling slowly to his right. Downfield, end Al MacDonald, whose promotion to the starting team came in last week's practice sessions, had beaten the safety man and was leading him by a stride in their race for the goal line. Suddenly, Munroe uncorked a tremendous pass. At the last instant, Al MacDonald veered to his right, took the pass over his shoulder, evaded a desperate lunge, and sped into the end zone for six points. Neal McCormack's rush into the line added two more and ended the scoring for the day.

Casey-at-the-Fumble
Pass interceptions by Butch Boudreau and George Munroe in the first and fourth periods halted North Reading charges before they could get started, but the play which broke the back of North Reading's attack came soon after the start of the second half. The visitors had taken the kickoff at their own 31. Carrucci and Morrow, their two fleet halfbacks, alternated around the ends and up the middle, picking up four first downs in five plays en route to the Blue and White 18 yard line. A score seemed to be inevitable, but Joe Casey alertly pounced on a fumble at the 20, and Wilmington again had the ball. Shortly after, Wilmington scored.

No. Reading Star Stopped
Vaunted Right Halfback Chuck Carrucci, whose 66 points thus far in 1958 placed him among state scoring leaders, met his

TO BE OR NOT TO BE

The Wilmington Parent Teacher's Association, a few weeks ago found itself sharply divided on the question of whether or not it should remain a part of the National Congress of the PTA.

A meeting in the High School, well attended, found itself to be so lively that one joking suggestion was made that a policeman be employed to attend the next meeting, and keep the peace.

There are people in Wilmington who just want to have local Mothers Clubs. There are people in Wilmington who object to paying a 25 cents per member fee to the National Congress of the PTA.

In so far as we know there are two towns only in Massachusetts which can possibly afford not to be a part of the National PTA setup. New ton and Winchester have within their borders so many professional pedagogues that they need no national guidance - but they are unique.

Wilmington does not fit in this category. We are a growing town, and we must keep alert to our responsibilities and our opportunities.

We have within the town many local Mothers Clubs, devoted to doing good for their own school - and sometimes slipping by the wayside.
We have a Parent Teachers organization.

Both of these meet on a monthly basis, and really drain from one another, in spite of good intentions. It is too much to expect a parent, or a teacher, to attend two meetings a month.

Wilmington's PTA system should be overhauled and modernized. Instead of unguided Mothers Clubs, there should be a PTA group for each school, guided by the parent organization, and then a PTA Council (of all schools) which would meet at more infrequent intervals, to discuss problems of a more town-wide nature.

Let those small minds which refuse to pay 25 cents to a National organization which does provide the kind of guidance needed, go their own way. We can afford to lose them.

We cannot afford to lose the guidance of an organization which has had the experience, and has the know-how and the guidance of the National Congress of the PTA.

It is no time to be small minded.

SENATOR POWERS

The name of Senator John E. Powers (D) of Boston has suddenly loomed as the person to whom the voters of Massachusetts will have to turn, if the proposed state lottery is to be defeated in the Legislature.

Senator Powers is expected to be named the Senate's new president, in January. Prior to the election of a week ago he was the Minority Leader in the Senate.

Last week's election gave an apparent majority of votes to the pro-lottery forces of the state, led by former Lt. Governor Francis E.
Kelly. He has as much as stated that he will push hard, for a state lottery, in the coming year, as a means of providing revenue for state operations, and was largely responsible for the question being on the ballot.

The question on the ballot was not a mandatory one, but one rather that sought public opinion, as a possible guide to legislators.

Senator Powers has already pointed out that he is opposed to lotteries, for state revenue, and that he does not want to see the state revenues dependent on the turning of a wheel, or the rolling of dice, and has also recalled that the late Archbishop of Boston, William Cardinal O'Connell was one of the foes of a lottery in this state.

URBAN RENEWAL PROGRESS

The Wilmington Housing Authority, last week through a rather unique method presented to some of our residents their latest thoughts on Urban Renewal.

It would appear that their latest proposals will cost in the neighborhood of $1,500,000.

We will have more to say about this, later.

TOWN NOTES

Weather

Ideal for hunting, but the pheasants which just a few weeks ago were dodging in the highways, in front of autos have entirely disappeared, and won't be seen until the hunting season is all over.

We had .69 inches of rain in the past week - just about normal weather.

Herb Barrows, A.V.

Herb Barrows continues to surprise us. From his Reading rest home we continually get reports - when we cannot get down to see him - and generally its a report of 'Herb isn't so good today'.

But for a man of 84 Herb has an amazing vitality. Every now and then the people of Wilmington figure, when Herb has a relapse - well it won't be long now, and then a few days later they are amazed to learn that Herb has done something that proves he is going to live for a few more years.

The latest is that Herb is now entitled to the letters
A.V. after his name, meaning that he cast his ballot in the election last week, as an Absentee Voter. That is the 32nd time, if we have counted our fingers correctly, that Herb has voted in State elections, - every other year for 64 years.

Doubly Glad

As Vice Chairman of the Wilmington Town Democratic Committee, John J. Davis of Grove Avenue would be a man to have had his heart filled with joy last week, but in this case his heart is doubly filled, for elected to Congress, from the 13th District of Massachusetts was James A. Burke, (Democrat of course), who replaced the Representative (Wigglesworth) who did not want to be a Congressman any more.

Burke is John Davis' first cousin, and wouldn't that make anyone glad?

Girl Scout Project

The Girl Scout baby sitting project, on Election Day, proved to be quite successful.
The actual number of babysitting jobs was small, but the Leaders cannot begin to estimate how many people cast their ballots through the efforts of Troop 108, and the students who offered to drive for them. Both the Republican and Democratic Town Committees made use of the girls and the civic service made available by them.

There were 12 girls, all High School students, in the group, and we have no doubt that they impressed some otherwise lackaday people with the importance of voting as a privilege and duty. But perhaps more important was the impression made on the girls themselves, who will soon be of voting age themselves. To them Election Day is not just another School Day.

The Twin

Father Leahy, of St. Dorothy's Church is the supposed author of the statement that there is only one Father Tyrell (The Curate of St. Dorothy's).

We have news for Father Leahy.

Father Tyrell has a twin brother, who while not a priest, is a duplicate chip off the old block. We understand that this goes to the point of having a similar bald spot, on the old pate.

Old Pupil

Perhaps the members of the Father Coppens Council of the Knights of Columbus think that they have a grand orator in the person of their Grand Knight, Pat Izzo.

Perhaps, on the other hand, they groan, when Pat gets up to speak.

We don't know, really, but if they want to place the (blame) (praise) they can stop down and visit our Superintendent of Schools, none other than John J.
Collins.

Pat Izzo learned the art(?) of public speaking in the Somerville Schools, and his teacher was one John J. Collins, at that time the Principal of the Junior High School of that city.

Big Whump

We have had our fun, talking about the noise and the blasting on Route 93, and calling it 'The Little Whump'

But we learned something last Monday that makes us take off our hats to the Dynamite Boys of Campanelli & Cardi.

We are referring to what happened in Villanova Hall when the Archbishop told his audience (50% St. Thomas, and 50% St. Dorothy's) that St. Dorothy's Church would soon be built.

The only way to describe the reaction is to say that it was 'The Big Whump'

Championship
(fr Fr Pg)

for both National and North American titles, and is one of the two women of Wilmington who will probably be named to the United States Olympic Team in 1960 - the first time that women speed skaters will be allowed to enter the Olympic competitions.

The other Wilmington woman is Mrs. Janet Tighe, of Chestnut Street, the first Wilmington skater to win a National Championship.

Mrs. Tighe, the former Janet Backman, has held three North American and National titles.

Her brother Leo has also held both North American and National Championships.

Michael Weinberg of Burlington Avenue, a Junior Skater is the present World's Champion of his class, in barrel jumping.

His sister Nancy has two titles, North American Pee-Wee Girls Champion, and National Invitational Champion.

Danny O'Connell, Faulkner Ave is the holder of the North American Invitational Championship, Pee-Wee Boy's Class.

Up and coming skaters, in the Wilmington club are a dime a dozen. It is impossible to name all the potential champions of this town, where children are apparently born with their skates already in place, but among those that can be named are such names as Clyde McKaba, Danny Moeglin, Dolly Nancy and Marie Hersom, Patty Fiske, Lennie Galvin, Barbara Maloney, Leo O'Connell III, Joyce Chinn, Jeff Williamson, Chester Hooper, Raymond LePore, Celia Spears, Kathleen Pushee, Elise Woller and Eileen Bradley.

Hearing
(fr Fr Pg)

TM Fred Calabrese opposed the idea, saying that Silver Lake is small in size, although a Great Pond, that the right of way idea is now being used by people with speedboats, for which it was never intended by the Colonial Legislature, and that the residents of Silver Lake are very much upset by the speedboating which now takes place on the lake.

Calabrese had an ariel photo of the lake which he displayed showing the congested homes around the lake, and he assured the hearing that all the homes are those of permanent year-round residents.

Harold Melzar, Lake Street, told the hearing that he had been a resident of the area for 63 years. There is now plenty of access, he told the hearing, through state and town owned land. He told the hearing that three attempts to stock sport fish in the lake had failed, and that only kibbies and perch are to be seen in the lake today.

JAMES M KERR ELECTED TO STUDENT COUNCIL AT NORTHEASTERN

James M Kerr, 71 Nichols St, has been elected as a representative from the School of Business to the Student Council of the Evening Division of Northeastern University.

The student council is the governing body responsible for the supervision of all social activities of the Evening Division, and the publication of the Evening Division annual yearbook.

PATRICK C. IZZO
GRAND KNIGHT OF
KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Patrick C. Izzo, of Hobson Street was inducted as Grand Knight of the Father Coppens Council, No 4336, Knights of Columbus, Monday evening, in Villanova Hall, in the presence of the Most Reverend Richard J. Cushing, Archbishop of Boston, and a host of dignitaries.

A Navy veteran, a graduate of the Somerville Schools, with 2 years of study at Boston College, Mr. Izzo has been a resident of Wilmington for the past nine years, and has been active in the local council since its inception.

He is in the restaurant business, in Somerville, and expects shortly to open his own restaurant, at the Tewksbury Shopping Center. Married to the former Margaret Kelly of Tewksbury, the couple have three children.

A MESSAGE OF THANKS FROM
EDITH NOURSE ROGERS

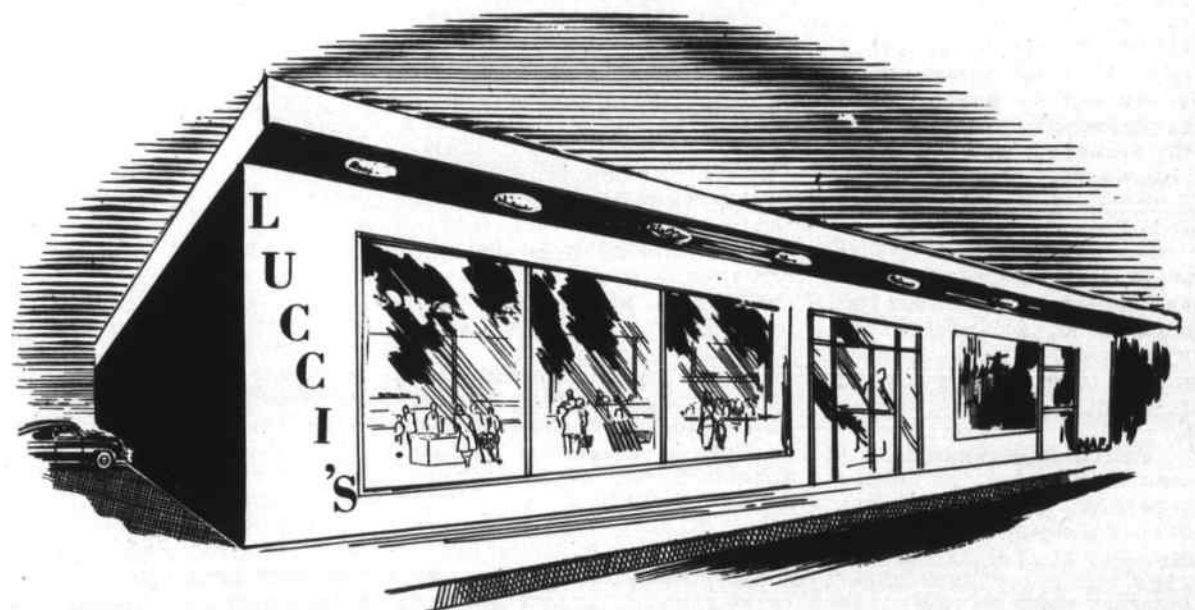

From the whole of my heart I extend to everyone who supported me in the election my genuine gratitude and deeply appreciative thanks. Particularly I am extremely grateful to my many loyal friends, in all of the cities and towns of the Fifth District and elsewhere who gave so generously of their valuable time to help me. My heart is full of thanks to all of you.

In these busy eventful years the confidence, the loyalty, the faith I have been honored with by countless friends will always be treasured as my finest and most precious possession.

Now within a great country we face a tremendous challenge the maintenance of Peace with honor. Together we must prevail for if we do not life in our Community and your land and mine will cease to be free.

My thanks again, and good cheer to all. Always I shall try to help you and do my best to protect you.

Edith Nourse Rogers

THANK YOU*VOTERS of the 18th DISTRICT

My victory at the polls fills me with a sense of responsibility as well as one of supreme gratitude. Without your effort, co-operation and trust in me, I would not be able to again represent you in the Great and General Court.

I am deeply grateful for the honor and distinction bestowed on me and may I from the bottom of a grateful heart extend my sincerest thanks to everybody who voted for me and may I especially thank my sincere workers in every community in the district, who made personal sacrifices to see to it that my interests were best represented. Thanks to everybody who assisted in any way. All that I can promise is to govern my every act with a view of meriting your confidence.

I am at your service in every matter concerning the district and in any matter involving state business. Please call on me at any time.

SINCERELY,

Rep. Thomas F. Donohue

METHODIST MEN TO HEAR DEPUTY WARDEN

The men of the Wilmington Methodist Church will hear the Deputy Warden of the Billerica House of Correction speak at their November meeting on Thursday November 20 beginning with dinner at 6:30 p.m. The men of the church and community are cordially invited to attend this program.

NEW ST. DOROTHY'S CHURCH

The men of the church have voted to sponsor the Methodist Youth Fellowship Basketball team which will be entering Lynn District league again this year. An added feature of the District program will be the formation of a Girl's league. Double headers will be played on each scheduled game night and following the games a period of recreation and refreshments will be held. Last year the local boys team won the regular season league competition, but lost the final game of the play-offs to Melrose by a two point margin.

and he now wanted it extended to the other side of the highway, in part of a 10 acre lot. No contractor would discuss with him a 'cleaning up' operation, unless he could get more gravel, Curtis stated.

The Selectmen voted to refer the case to the Town Engineer. Harnden Ave.

Frank Nelson and Robert Cook brought the Selectmen a request that Harnden Avenue be accepted as a Town Highway, in the coming annual Town Meeting. Harnden Avenue is being constructed, along with Cypress Street, by Jim Donahue, who is using private contractors for the work. Nelson told the Selectmen. A six inch water main has been laid, and the streets are to be surfaced, with the contractor guaranteeing the work.

He wanted to know if the town could remove a piece of ledge, about 4 inches high and 36 inches long, on Cypress Street which has already been accepted by the town. If this could be done the private contractor would do a better job he told the Selectmen. He also wanted the Town Engineer to survey the road, and stake it out.

Black told him that he should previously have told the TM about the problem, and the discussion became one of when the Town Manager had first been called, with Calabrese saying he thought the day was Friday, and Nelson saying that a call had been made last Wednesday. Nelson was told that if it could be arranged, the town would try to do the work he asked.

Nichols Street

Messrs William Berry, Charles Masely and George Peters visited the Board to discuss the Nichols Street bridge, Fairmeadow Road, and the Board of Water Commissioners, with Berry doing most of the talking.

Calabrese told them that he was to attend a meeting Wednesday, with the B&M RR in which would be discussed an idea of having the Legislature vote that all bridges over railroads should be a governmental function, rather than a railroad responsibility, with a set-up similar to the Chapter 90 provisions for County highways - i.e. the town paying one quarter, the county one quarter, and the state one half towards the construction and maintenance of railroad bridges.

So far, he told the group, the railroad has submitted 3 plans for the reconstruction of the Nichols St. bridge. The cheapest of these, in the viewpoint of the town, would cost Wilmington over $20,000.

The water on Nichols Street has been turned on as far as the bridge, and he is still waiting for the B&M before work will start on the final connection at the bridge. The Water Department, last Thursday, awarded a contract to a private contractor for the work, but the B&M must have an 'inspection crew' on the job.

There had been a lot of delay because the B&M had not been able to fully make up its mind on the procedure, was in effect what Calabrese told the three men.

Berry brought up the subject of the Tewksbury supply - saying that 'the information we received at the Special Town Meeting was not accurate' - a subject of discussion for the two men every time they meet.

Calabrese: 'That isn't true. The Tewksbury Water Commissioners said that they could not and would not extend their contract - but that they could supply water on a day to day basis if Wilmington in good faith tried to solve the problem. If we hadn't made an effort the water would have been turned off now.'

Berry complimented the Water Department on the nice job they had done on Nichols St. and then supplemented his remarks by saying 'I mean the paid members'

Berry brought up the $27 connection charge which is made by the Water Department in hooking up new services, saying he understood that Peters did not have to pay such a charge, and that others did. This, plus the method used to charge for connections based on the distance to the main, rather than the center of the street, was something Berry thought the Selectmen should know about - 'I didn't come up here to get the solution' he said.

Black told him he should discuss things of this nature with the Water Commissioners. Berry: 'But we can talk with you, Mr. Black'

Black: 'But under the Town Manager Act there is nothing the Selectmen can do'

Berry: 'I entertain no thoughts of satisfaction with the Commissioners of the Water Department'

Other Items

Selectman Don Kidder reported that two of his constituents had missed their train, one morning while High Street approaches were being surfaced by Campanelli & Cardi. He said that he hoped in the future the firm could put up a cardboard sign, the day before, warning that a street would be closed for a while.

Selectman Black reported that he had again visited the area of the Town Bound, near the Ipswich River (the corner known as Jenks Corner) and the boundary mark was not to be seen - presumably it had been covered over when the highway construction crews piled up peat, alongside Route 93.

A note from Selectman Hagerty, which apparently was somewhat obscure, spoke of a possible widening of Ballardvale Street, in Wilmington, or in Andover, or both. The Selectmen were not sure.

The Cronin Brothers have purchased about five acres of gravel land, south of Ballardvale, which they will be shortly opening up, and Beyer & Mingolla have asked for a permit to re-open the Mercauto pit, on Ballardvale Street. Either one of these firms could be planning to widen the street, as a part of their operations.

Wildcats Triumph
(fr Fr Pg)

masters in the Wilmington defensive line. Thirteen tries netted him only 45 yards, and the only time he did get loose to cross the goal-line, a mate was off-side, nullifying what could have been a touchdown. At one point in the game, when the going was especially tough for North Reading runners, the distraught Carrucci yelled to his coach, 'Let us pass; we're not going anywhere this way.' But the visiting team's aerial game fared no better. Eleven attempted passes were good for only one completion - and the two interceptions mentioned.

Summing Up

While credit must be given to the entire defense, several of the boys stood out. Joe Casey played a terrific game in the line and even took a turn in the backfield late in the game to spell Billy Rooney. Danny Bemis, Winston Fairfield, Neal McCormack and Ken Spinelli all gave outstanding performances. With only two games remaining, the boys realize they must win them both to finish above the .500 mark. Next week's match with Lynnfield (28-0 loser the week before to North Reading) should be a good tune-up for our Thanksgiving at-home clash with arch-enemy Tewksbury.

Double Trouble

After the varsity trounced a North Reading team on Saturday afternoon, the JV's heaped insult on injury by shutting out the North Reading JV's 33-0 on Tuesday morning. In keeping with the occasion, an armistice was signed til next year. Incidentally, the enthusiasm and the successful play of the JV's in several contests this year are encouraging signs for next year, despite the loss of all those Seniors.

Olympic Hopefuls

As mentioned several weeks ago in this column, Wilmington may place two members on the first U.S. Ladies Speed Skating Team which will compete with other nations at Squaw Valley, California between February 18 and 28, 1960. Jeanne Ashworth and Janet Tighe have registered an interest in trying out for the team with the Northeastern Skating Association. Clyde McCabe of Woburn Street, although an Intermediate and only 16 years old, has also arranged to try out for the Mens Team. Clyde believes that the experience will stand him in good stead in 1964.

Mumblings

I wonder how many people in Wilmington wince for poor old Charley Conerley as I do each Sunday afternoon...The new college and high school ruling on conversions has had a tarnishing effect on the one and only 'golden toe' of Butch McFeeters. Why settle for one point when you can get two???? Ricky Froten booted a point in the JV game on Tuesday just to show that it still can be done at the high school level.....

MIKE STROW ELECTED PRESIDENT OF TRAIL BLAZERS

The 4-H Horse Club Trail Blazers with Mrs Leo Dupras as their leader elected Mike Strow President at their November meeting. Other officials are Thomas Southmayd, Vice President; Joan McCormick, Secretary and Loyd Carney, Treasurer.

The group talked over their outing of October 20 to the Boston Rodeo and arrangements were made for a Christmas party.

STATE OFFICIAL OF PTA

TO ATTEND MONDAYS MEETING Mrs. George E. Rolis, Belmont, Vice President of the Massachusetts Parent-Teacher Association, will attend the next meeting of the Wilmington PTA in the High School cafeteria, Monday evening.

Mrs. Rolis will be attending for the purpose of explaining the state and national organization, and for the purpose of answering questions from the membership.

A committee of five, empowered to bring in recommendations on whether or not the Wilmington PTA should divorce itself from the national organization will make its report.

In the committee are Paul Bodenstein (chmn), Mrs. George Roberti, Mrs. Joseph Keough, Mrs. Kenneth Lyons, and Frank McLean.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 pm.

HISTORY OF THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

By Mrs. Esther C. Nichols

to his right, twice) Then, without comment, he proceeded with the sermon. At the close, he again made this same, peculiar gesture. (Salaam to his left, twice) Finally, when curiosity had reached the fever point, the deacons were instructed to call a meeting to ask the young pastor to explain this unusual behavior. The meeting was called. After the chairman had commended the minister for the splendid work he was doing, and, especially for his fine sermons, he said, 'But we have got to know one thing. Why do you make these peculiar gestures every Sunday before and after the sermon?' 'Oh,' replied the young minister, much relieved, 'those are the quotations marks. You see I have been using sermons written by outstanding preachers, and the quotation marks simply indicate that I do not claim them as my own!' And now, having properly placed the quotation marks, I shall quote freely from all sources.

The history of our church is closely interwoven with that of our town. As many of you know, Wilmington was originally a part of Woburn, which, in those days, covered a great deal of territory, most of it wilderness. Lemuel C Eames, in his 'History of Wilmington', tells us that the common purpose of the early settlers was to subdue the wilderness, and to plant and uphold the principles of the heroic little colony. As the population increased, the settlers pushed further into the wilds, until the families from this area had to travel from four to seven miles to attend church. Not that distance kept them from attending, nor that it made them late. Tradition has it that inhabitants of the remotest corner of Goshen, (probably near the Billerica line), often travelled the seven miles to meeting in winter, on snowshoes. And Deacon Thompson was 'wont to be there on summer mornings by eight o'clock, at least one hour before services commenced. Another vigorous old Christian we are told, greatly impressed the youth of that generation with his maxim, 'Airly to meetin', airly to heaven, I vowger.'

We can readily see that although the hardest of these settlers managed to overcome the obstacles of distance, many could not, and were there by denied the privilege of uniting in the public worship of God! This was the reason why the people in this area petitioned the General Court for permission to organize a new town. Their first request, which was for a separate precinct or parish, was denied. Their second was for a separate town, and when the committee appointed 'to view the lands' reported 'that it is highly reasonable that the Prayer of the petitioners be granted', their prayer was granted.

It is significant that the Act of Incorporation, which was passed on Sept 17, 1730, contained the following requirement: 'And the inhabitants of said town of Wilmington are hereby required in the space of three years----to procure and settle a learned, Orthodox minister of good conversation and make provision for his comfortable and honorable support and also with convenient speed erect and furnish a suitable and convenient house for the Public Worship of Gos.' I think we all agree with Mr Noyes, one of the later ministers, who said on the occasion of the 150th Anniversary: It is no small privilege to be able to look back on such ancestry--and their descendants can all be thankful that the town of Wilmington had its origin in sentiments running so deep and rising so high.

The town having been thus duly incorporated, the next step of its citizens was to meet with the requirement to erect and furnish a suitable building for the public worship of God.

Unfortunately, the first leaf of our town records is missing, but the first words on the second leaf are 'The Word of God Among Us.' Whatever the rest of the vote was, it passed in the affirmative. The second vote of the town was to use the school house for a place of worship until a meeting house could be provided; the third, was to vote sixty pounds, about $200.00, toward the support of the gospel. The fourth vote stipulated that the two ends of the town were to agree upon a site for the meeting house by the end of one week. Later in the evening, having taken care of several other items of business, they returned to the vote on the choice of a site for the church. After adjourning to the spot which had been settled upon as being the center of the town, the citizens were surprised to find that they were able to agree on a place a few rods from where our church now stands. The record says 'For which Christian and brotherly agreement in a matter of such great moment, and which is generally of such lamentable consequence, to God be all the praise. 'But, alas, the Christian and brotherly agreement was short lived, 'for there were people even in those days who had the leisure to be dissatisfied.' Mr Noyes describes them thus: 'Here they come, unhappy fellows, their number and quality wholly forgotten, but only this remembered, that, when the town had come to an unexpected happy agreement, much to its comfort and credit, they would not be content, but must needs stir dissatisfactions; and the result is that after one year and eight months, the meeting house stands upon the site first voted.' They had their labor for their pains. Human nature hasn't changed much in 225 years, for not one of the names of those who led the opposition appear on the tax lists of that day.

We can well imagine the purposeful devotion with which that first meeting house was built in 1732. When completed, it was a rectangular building with a door at each end and a front door toward the road. This door opened into the main aisle, or 'alley' as it was called, of the church, and led straight to the pulpit. The floor of the pulpit was six to eight feet high, above a well panelled sounding board. The deacons' pew was directly in front of the pulpit, about three feet above the floor. The two rows of windows going around three sides of the building had small diamond-shaped panes, and opened in-

RICHARD V. BARRY

Richard V. Barry, of 2 Wightman Rd., South Tewksbury, died after a short illness in St. Murdock 2-9735, November 10 at the age of 72.

Formerly of Roslindale and a retired Boston school teacher he had lived on Wightman Road for the past six years.

Mr. Barry was a late charter member of the Bunker Hill Council No. 62 Knights of Columbus and a former School Building Commissioner in the City of Boston.

Funeral services were conducted by the W. S. Cavanaugh Funeral Home last Thursday with a Solum High Mass of Requiem at St. Dorothy's. Burial was in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret L. (Rice), two sons, Garrett of Roslindale and Richard V. Jr., of Longview Road, North Wilmington, and two daughters, Mrs Dorothy McQuaid of California and Mrs Marquerite Gelinas of Connecticut.

BOY STABBED WITH PENKNIFE

Earl Shrier, 14 years old, of Burt Road is under the care of Dr. E. C. MacDougal, following a stabbing incident, in the B&M RR Depot yard, at Wilmington Square, last Friday afternoon.

He was stabbed in the back, with a blade that was about two inches long. The knife first went through his jacket, which kept the wound from being more serious, although 5 stitches had to be taken to close the wound.

Dr. MacDougal stated that if the knife had been three inches higher it would have gone into the boy's heart.

Police are investigating the accident.

CHINN - HUGHES
MARRIAGE

Miss Carol Hughes, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hughes of 1 Port Norfolk St. Dorchester became the bride of John Chinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henri Chinn, of 34 Belmont Ave. Wilmington, in a ceremony at 4 pm, Nov. 8th., in Dorchester.

The ceremony, attended only by close friends and relatives was in the parsonage of the Community Church of Neponset (Congregational) at 7 Hallett Street, with the Rev. Thomas Rose officiating. A double ring ceremony was used.

Mrs. Glen Connolly, a sister of the bride, was the Matron of Honor, and Mr. Peter LePore of Wilmington, a friend of the groom, was Best Man.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother in law, Mr. Glen Connolly, of Medford. Her father, a Marine Engineer, was away, at sea, at the time of the ceremony.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. In the receiving line were her mother and her sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Shionis and Mrs. Connolly, Mrs. Peter Le Pore, mother of the Best Man, Mrs. Henri Chinn, and Miss Joyce Chinn, sister of the groom.

The new Mrs. Chinn is a graduate of Hyde Park High School, Class of 1954, and has been employed at the United National Food Distributors, of Boston.

Mr. Chinn graduated from Wilmington High School in 1950, served four years in the US Navy, as an Electrician's Mate First Class, and was given a degree in Electrical Engineering, at Tufts University, in 1958. He is now employed as an Electrical Engineer at the Bethlehem Steel Company in Quincy.

After a wedding trip to New York City the couple will make their home in Quincy.

LAURA SHEEHAN IN POOR CONDITION AFTER ACCIDENT

Mrs. Laura Sheehan, 144 West Street, a member of the Wilmington School Safety Patrol, is confined to her bed at her home, under physicians care, after an accident near the Wildwood School, Monday night.

Her daughter Mary, who was a passenger in the car driven by Mrs. Sheehan is also confined to her bed, but her son Billy is apparently uninjured.

Mrs. Sheehan was leaving the Wildwood School, after attending Open House, at 8:10 pm when her car was in a collision with one driven by Joseph H. Strobe, of Westdale Avenue. Mrs. Sheehan's car was totally demolished.

Also damaged in the accident was a car owned by Mrs. Virginia Thompson, 54 Andover St. which was parked by the roadside.

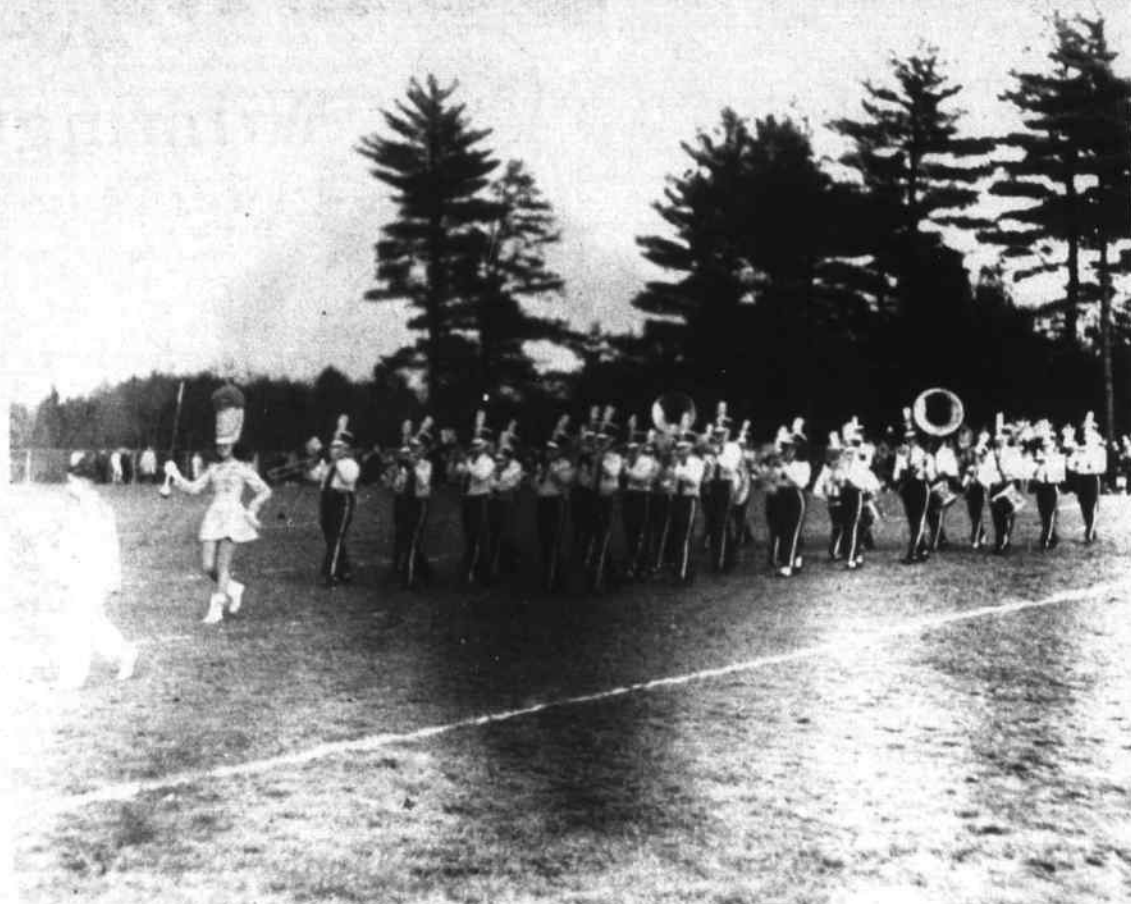

The accident occurred immediately in front of the home of Officer John Ritchie, who with Officer Charles Dolan, investigated the accident.

ACCIDENT AT CLARK ST

A collision on Nov. 9th., at 12:50 pm resulted in no personal injuries being reported.

Edmund Sparks of Shawsheen Road was driving south on Main Street when his car was in collision with one being driven in a Westerly direction on Clark St. by Herbert J. Nelson of 13 Central Street

THREAT OF ANOTHER
'HATHAWAY PIT' TOLD
AT APPEAL BOARD HEARING
Members of the Wilmington Board of Appeals were informed in all seriousness, last Thursday evening, that there is a good possibility of the Smith gravel pit, off Woburn Street and near the Ipswich River, becoming a huge lake such as is now happening to the Hathaway gravel pit, in North Wilmington.

John Drinkwater, owner of land in both Wilmington and North Reading, so informed the board, and his information was confirmed in part by Arthur Hallam, engineer of the Campanelli & Cardi Construction Company.

Pointing out that a large market exists for gravel and fill, in Wilmington, Drinkwater stated 'it would not surprise me to see some smart operator buy the Smith pit, and start for China, just as has happened in North Wilmington'.

The Smith Pit was in existence before the Zoning Laws were passed' he told the board and any operator who gets it in his hand, and wants to dig will not be stopped by the courts --- and you know it!'

Hallam confirmed this, in his belief, saying that Campanelli & Cardi would not do this, but that he believed other firms would - and that the need for the fill existed.

Fred A. (Sunshine) Smith, owner of the pit, denied to the Town Crier, later, that any thought was being given to the selling of the pit, and that, if it were sold, it would be operated as a gravel pit 'I will see to it,' he said 'that there is a clause to prevent further gravel excavations, if I sell the pit'.

The remarks by Drinkwater and Hallam were only part of an excited hearing, in which residents of Concord Street vociferously opposed a proposition of making a pit out of a three acre tract south of Concord Street.

Led by Rene LaRivee, half a dozen residents of the street had compiled facts and figures on valuations and taxes, for the gravel pits in the area, and compared them to the taxes paid by the residents.

Pointing out that the residents of the area pay nearly $7000 a year in taxes, they told the board that they were having the value of their homes ruined by gravel pit operators who 'leave messes for everyone to see'.

Arthur Hallam, engineer for Campanelli & Cardi, told the board that he wished to remove a hill, with a height of 107 feet above sea level, down to the level of Concord Street, which is about 80 feet above sea level.

The hill occupies practically all of a three acre tract, 300 feet south of Concord Street, known as the Dias lot. It is south of land owned by Fred Smith, and others, to the home of Mr. LeFavour (the last home in Wilmington, on the south side, going to North Reading).

A glacial pot hole, now filled in with water, and a breeding place for mosquitoes would be filled in, as part of the operation, Hallam told the board. All loam and top soil would be retained and afterwards spread over the land, so as to increase its value, and it would be left in good condition.

Mr. Drinkwater, who owns a large tract of land, on which gravel operations have been conducted, in North Reading, and who also owns a tract of land just south of the Dias lot, joined Mr. Hallam, in asking that a favorable decision be made.

Drinkwater told the board that he had torn down a 'tubercular' shack, on his property, and that other homes in the area were of a similar nature, a statement which brought valuable protests from the Concord St. residents, and led Drinkwater to redefine his statement to homes on the south side of the street.

Hallam told the Board of Appeals twice that Drinkwater was not speaking for Campanelli & Cardi.

Mr. LaRivee told the Board of Appeals that the only reason Drinkwater appeared in favor of the Campanelli & Cardi proposal was so that he could get his own property, south of the Dias lot, opened up for gravel operations. Every resident of the area, all against the proposed gravel operations, chimed in agreement to LaRivee's statement.

They also told the Board that they had nothing against Campanelli & Cardi as a firm. The board was told that the contractor, so far, had always lived up to all agreements, and that they had no complaint to make - but they were against any extension of gravel pits.

Chairman Walter L. Hale Jr. of the Board of Appeals conferred with the Selectmen Monday evening, in such a way as to make it appear that the Board of Appeals is willing to grant the application of Campanella & Cardi.
